About This Content

BrashMonkey is pleased to present the new Dream Frontiers Environment Art Pack.

Designed to be the perfect expansion to the Dreamworld Adventures Pack or a great set of environments on it's own, Dream Frontiers comes fully loaded with a large assortment of highly colorful and wonderfully flexible images and tile-sets, ready to merge, layer, blend, and tile together as you see fit to create the vibrant and whimsical environments for your next side-scrolling platformer game.

Use the Dream Frontiers pack's large array of image components to construct foreground, mid-ground, and distant layers of depth in 3 pre-made color or lighting variations. Create beautiful and expansive castle, jungle, forest, and Egyptian or Arizona style deserts for your player to explore. When used in art programs like Photoshop or the fantastic and free Krita, the customizing possibilities are virtually endless.

In addition to individual image components, each environment set offers a high resolution tile-set in two common perspective variations for the core of the foreground layer, which can be scaled down to fit the needs of your specific game project's tile size requirements.

This pack also includes a set of art to help you add water sections, rain, and blowing sand-storms to any of the environments from this or the Dreamworld Adventures pack.

BrashMonkey's Environment Art Packs are unique, because they include several Spriter animated props to further bring your lush cartoon landscapes to life! Use this pack to add easy to customize flags, torches, palm trees, a variety of moving platforms, breakable blocks, or power-up blocks to further enrich your game levels.

You can either use these Spriter files in conjunction with one of the many Spriter run-time API's to have silky-smooth tweened animations playing back in you game, or you can export the animated props as full frame images or sprite-sheets at any scale and frame-rate you desire.

Make your video game worlds come to life, with BrashMonkey's Dream Frontiers Environment Art Pack!
